

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention relates to a method for manufacturing a spray boom. The method comprises the steps
5 of forming flat two ladders, each ladder consisting of an upper beam connected to a lower beam by girders, producing lower crossbeams, assembling the two ladders and the lower crossbeams to form a three-dimensional structure. The present invention advantageously makes it possible to 10 reduce the cost of manufacturing a spray boom.